March 2008

Two weeks ago Koffee Kompanions launched a blog!

Cozy Comments -- "Fun facts and ideas on coffee, tea, and cozy covers for French presses and teapots. Also join us for talk about food, beverages, and other interesting stuff in our daily lives."

I've been posting photos and information about preparing for our kitchen remodel and the daily changes. I invite you to visit Cozy Comments and "meet" our talented contractor. Dave is the guy wearing the black T-shirt. When he's not working, Dave puts on his leathers and rides his Yamaha V Star Classic motorcycle!

Dave laying tiles

Dave Thompson, owner of Winds of Change Contracting, Inc., has been our contractor for 19 months. He and his crew have replaced our deck, turned a bedroom into a laundry/storage room, replaced all the windows, and much more. Now he's rebuilding our kitchen area. He's making our remodeling dreams a reality!

Dave has also given us fantastic gift certificates, but our favorite gifts are the beautiful writing pens he made for us using scraps of wood from our new ash floor!

Remember, you receive a free Bagels Kup Kollar when you forward our newsletters. If you have friends who would like to "meet" Dave, forward this email!
